Independent Auditor's Report

I have audited the statement of financial condition of Financial Planning Securities, Inc., as of December 31, 2002 and the related statements of income, cash flows, and changes in shareholders' equity for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on the audit.

I conducted the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that this audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly in all material respects, the financial position of Financial Planning Securities, Inc., as of December 31, 2002, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

My audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, and III is presented for the purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Financial Planning Securities, Inc.
Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1 - Nature of Ownership of Business

Financial Planning Securities, Inc. (the "Company") operates principally as a registered broker dealer purchasing and selling securities for customers and charging a commission. Ted E. Pack and Robert S. Crane, the original founders and sole shareholders, were also founders and shareholders of FPN Securities, Inc. which currently provides the Company with office facilities at no charge. The Company was capitalized on September 4, 1992, and commenced operations upon approval from the Georgia Commission of Securities, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the National Association of Security Dealers. During August 2000, Ted E. Pack, was killed in an untimely accident, Robert S. Crane is currently sole shareholder of the Company and of FPN Securities, Inc.

Note 2 - Significant Accounting Policies

Customer securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis with related commission income and expenses recorded on a settlement date basis.

Note 3 - Restricted Cash

Restricted cash consists of a required deposit with a clearing broker.

Note 4 - Income Taxes

Income taxes are provided for the tax effects of transactions reported in the financial statements. The Company incurred a net income of $793 for the year ending December 31, 2002. However, due to the immaterial amount of federal and state income taxes (less than $500) that will be due as a result of this net income, there is no provision for income taxes payable in these statements.

Note 5 - Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1) under the Securities and Exchange Commission Act of 1934 which requires that aggregate indebtedness, as defined, not exceed 1500% of net capital, as defined. At December 31, 2002, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $16,708 and $5,000 respectively. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was .02 to 1.

Note 6 - Estimates in the Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, if any, at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Financial Planning Securities, Inc.

Gentlemen :

In planning and performing my audit of the financial statements and supplementary schedules of Financial Planning Securities, Inc., (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2002, I considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine my auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing my opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC), I have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures that I considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in the making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e). Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following :

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the proceeding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and the related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to access whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5 (g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. My consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, I noted no matters involving the internal control, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that I consider to be material weakness as defined above.

I understand that the practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and my study, I believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and any other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5 (g) under the Securities Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.

Sincerely,
